BENIZEP
BENIZEP SR-200

Chlordiazepoxide binds to stereospecific benzodiazepine (BZD) binding site on GABA (A) receptor complexes at several sites within the CNS. This will increase the concentration of inhibitory neurotransmitter GABA. BZDs, therefore, enhance GABA-mediated chloride influx through GABA receptor channels, causing membrane hyperpolarization. This turn alter normal excitatory function of the body.

KEY BENEFITS:

- Mebeverine: Antispasmodic, smooth muscle relaxant, without typical anticholinergic side effects such as dry mouth, blurred vision and impaired micturition.¹
- Mebeverine 200 mg BID is therapeutically equivalent to Mebeverine 135 mg TID in the treatment of abdominal pain in IBS.¹
- Mebeverine decreases daily defecation frequencies and improves stool consistency.
- Chlordiazepoxide works by decreasing abnormal electrical activity in the brain.

DOSAGE:

As directed by the physician.
